This house is a two-story, three-bay by two-bay stone foundation. Its walls are of narrow German siding painted white. It has a gable roof covered in sheet metal. Brick chimneys are located interior-end at each gable end. A long ell is attached to the rear of the house. This appears to be a later addition because of the change in the foundation. The house appears to be from the late 19th century.

The frame house is located on the west side of Rt. 65, .3 miles north of Lappans Road. It is situated close to the road and is close to the other houses in Lappans. The main facade faces east.

The main facade is asymmetrical with a centrally located door. The entrance has a one-bay gable roof porch supported on a boxed posts. The windows in the other two bays of the first story and the three bays of the second story are six-over-six sash windows. The roof has a boxed cornice that returns at the gable ends. The ell has a one-story porch on the inner side of the ell. The northern side of the ell has one window on the first and two windows on the second stories. This gives this facade a bare look because of the lack of windows in the area that connects the two section. The gable end on the north side only has a small attic window.

There is a small shed outbuilding on this property.
